VINEYARD REGION

Barossa

VINTAGE CONDITIONS

The Barossa went into the growing season with plenty of soil moisture thanks to the much higher than average rainfall during spring. This eased up into the summer period with reduced rainfall during the harvest season providing relief from potential disease pressure.

A relatively cool harvest with no real heatwaves resulted in delayed fruit maturity. This resulted in wines of bright fruit profile but punchy tannins with length.

WINEMAKING

Grenache fruit for this wine is from 80 plus year old bush vine vineyards. Handpicked and fermented in open top fermenters with heading down boards then carefully matured in large French oak Foudres.
